

76% of UK buildings are underinsured and 20% are overinsured

We found that overall in the UK, properties are:

COMMERCIAL PROPERTIES

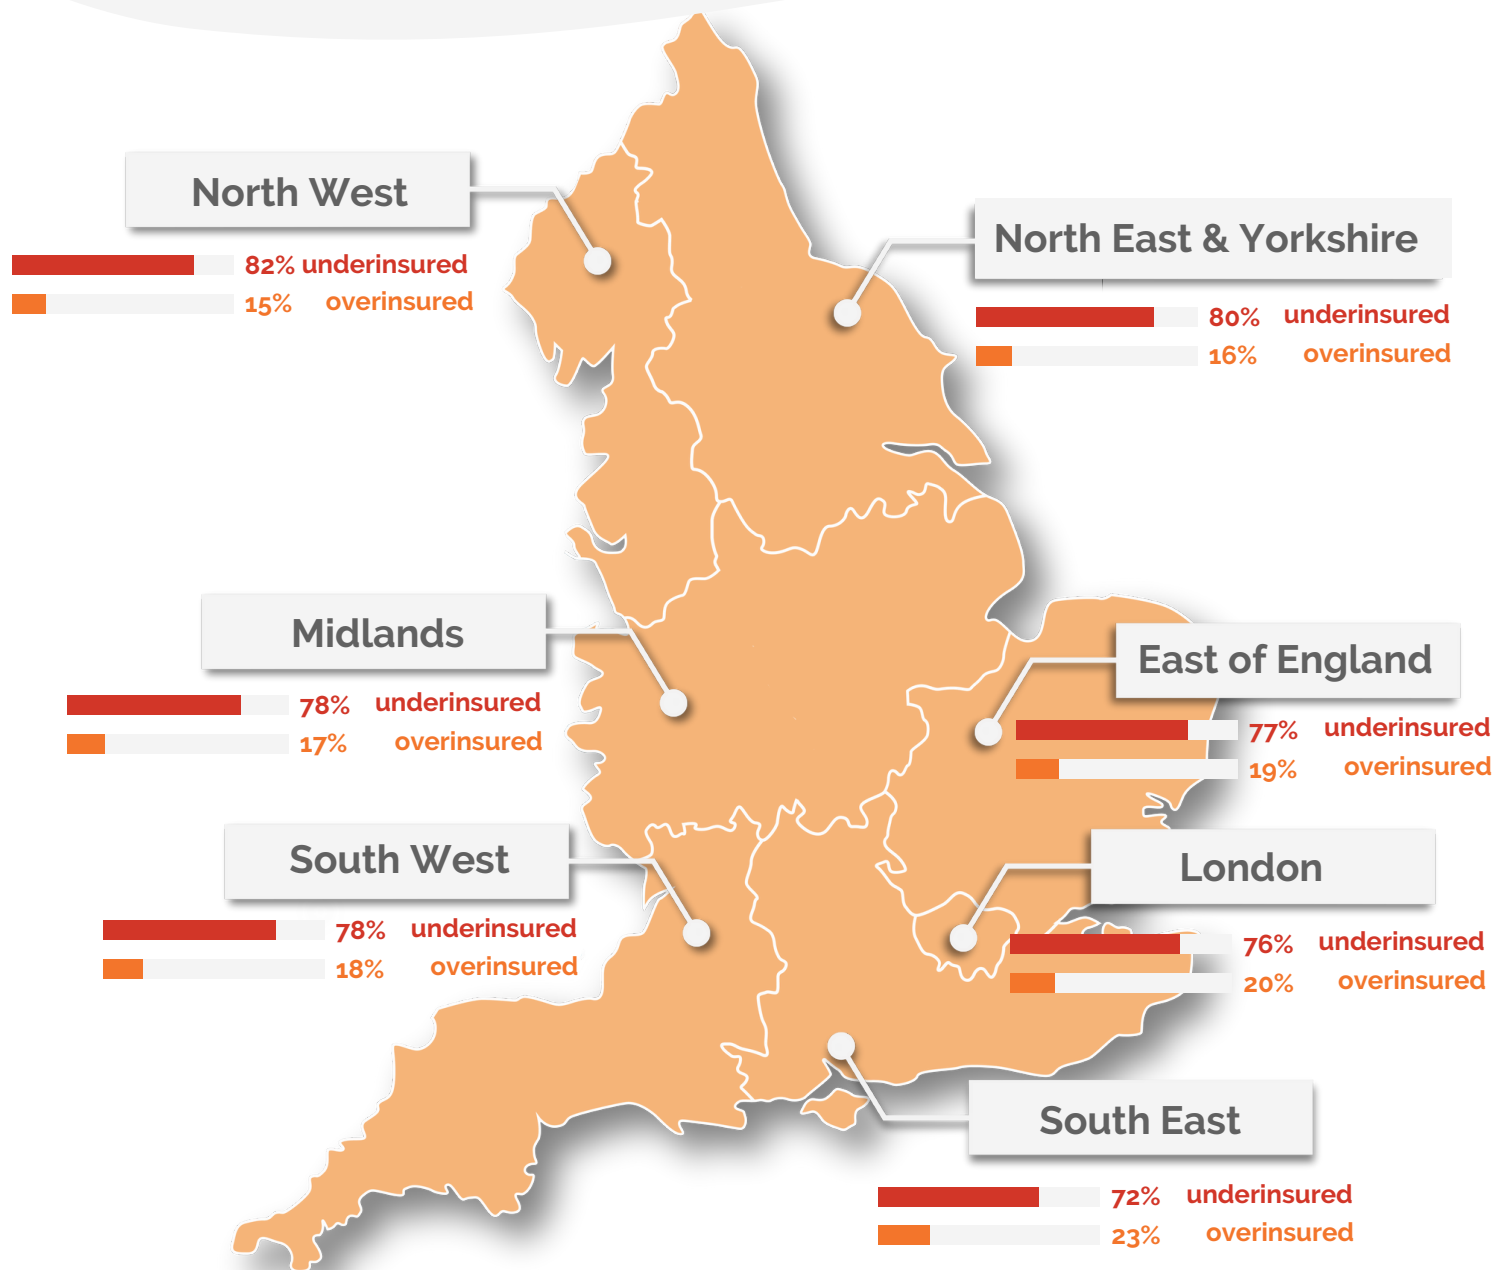

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES

On average, underinsured buildings are covered for just 63% for the amount they should be. While, on average, overinsured buildings are covered for 122%.

2024 Industry Infographic

Regional Breakdown Across England

On average, underinsured buildings in England are covered for just 64% for the amount they should be. While, on average, overinsured buildings in England are covered for 122%.

2024 Industry Infographic

Every year we share data with the insurance industry around the accuracy of building sums insured in the UK. These are our latest findings covering both residential and commercial properties. This data is derived from our most recent 34,145 Rebuild Cost Assessments completed as of 31st August 2024